Section 1 Historical Perspectives and Foundations

1 Overview of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 3

Introduction	3
Expressive Therapies Continuum at First Glance	4
A Developmental Hierarchy	9
Kinesthetic/Sensory Level	9
Perceptual/Affective Level	10
The Cognitive/Symbolic Level	11
The Creative Level	12
A Reverse Developmental Hierarchy	13
Using the Expressive Therapies Continuum in Therapy	13
The ETC Components at Work: The Example of the Scribble Chase	15
The Expressive Therapies Continuum as a Foundational Theory	17
Unifying the Field of Art Therapy	18
The Rest of the Book	18

2 History and Evolution of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 21

Introduction	21
The Grandmother of the Expressive Therapies Continuum: Florence Cane	22
The Mother of Art Therapy: Margaret Naumburg	24
Art as Therapy: Edith Kramer	25
Creating Order out of Chaos: Elinor Ulman	26
The Value of Creative Learning: Viktor Lowenfeld	26
The Phenomenology of Expression: Mala Betensky	27
The Role of Gestalt Art Therapy: Janie Rhyne	28
The Developmental Aspects of Image and Thought: Mardi Horowitz	29
The Effects of Media Properties and Task Instructions	30
Media Properties	32
Boundaries, Mediators, and Reflective Distance	33
Task Complexity and Task Structure	33
Summary	35

Section 2 Characteristics of the Expressive Therapies Continuum and Its Components

3 Kinesthetic Component of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 39

Introduction to the Kinesthetic Component	39
Developmental Hierarchy	40
Healing Dimension of the Kinesthetic Component	41
Examples of Kinesthetic Experiences	42
Media Experiences That Enhance Kinesthetic Functioning	43
Reflective Distance With the Kinesthetic Component	44
Questions and Discussion That Promote Kinesthetic Functioning	44
Emergent Function of the Kinesthetic Component	45
When Work on the Kinesthetic Component Is Indicated	46
Overcoming Blocks to the Use of Kinesthetic Functioning	46
Balancing Overuse of Kinesthetic Information Processing	47
Case Example	49
Introduction	49
Kinesthetic Activities	50
Kinesthetic to Perceptual Functioning	51
Perceptual Functioning	52
Perceptual to Affective Functioning	53
Cognitive Functioning	53
Cognitive to Symbolic Functioning	54
Symbolic Functioning	55
Reinforcing Cognitive Functioning	55
Conclusion	55
Summary	56

4 Sensory Component of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 59

Introduction to the Sensory Component	59
Developmental Hierarchy	61
Healing Dimension of the Sensory Component	62
Examples of Sensory Experiences	63
Media Experiences That Enhance Sensory Functioning	64
Reflective Distance With the Sensory Component	66
Questions and Discussion That Promote Sensory Information Processing	66
Emergent Function of the Sensory Component	67
When Work With the Sensory Component Is Indicated	68
Overcoming Blocks to Sensory Functioning	69
Balancing Excessive Sensory Information Processing	70
Case Example	72
Introduction	72
Cognitive Functioning	72
Movement to the Sensory Component	73
Movement From Sensory to Perceptual/Affective Level	73
Conclusion	74
Summary	75

5 Perceptual Component of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 79

- Introduction to the Perceptual Component 79
- Developmental Hierarchy 80
- The Importance of Good Gestalts 81
- Healing Function of the Perceptual Component 82
- Examples of Perceptual Experiences 83
- Media Experiences That Enhance Perceptual Functioning 84
- Reflective Distance With the Perceptual Component 86
- Questions and Discussion That Promote Perceptual Information Processing 86
- Emergent Function of the Perceptual Component 87
- When Work With the Perceptual Component Is Indicated 88
- Overcoming Blocks to Perceptual Functioning 90
- Balancing Excessive Perceptual Functioning 91
- Case Example 92
- Introduction 92
- Assessment of Functional Level 93
- Functioning With the Perceptual Component 96
- Movement to the Cognitive/Symbolic Level 97
- Alternating Between the Perceptual and Cognitive Levels 97
- Summary 98

6 Affective Component of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 101

- Introduction to the Affective Component 101
- Developmental Hierarchy 103
- Healing Function of the Affective Component 104
- Examples of Affective Experiences 105
- Media Experiences That Enhance Affective Functioning 106
- Reflective Distance With the Affective Component 108
- Questions and Discussion That Promote Affective Information Processing 109
- Emergent Function of the Affective Component 110
- Overcoming Blocks to Affective Information Processing 111
- Balancing Overuse of Affective Functioning 114
- Case Example 116
- Introduction 116
- Assessment of Functional Level 116
- Beginning at the Cognitive Level 117
- Affective Responding 118
- Summary 120

7 Cognitive Component of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 123

- Introduction to the Cognitive Component 123
- Developmental Hierarchy 124
- Healing Function of the Cognitive Component 125
- Examples of Cognitive Experiences 127
- Media Experiences to Enhance Cognitive Functioning 130
- Reflective Distance With the Cognitive Component 130
- Questions and Discussion That Promote Cognitive Information Processing 132
- Emergent Function of the Cognitive Component 133
- Overcoming Blocks to Cognitive Functioning 136
- Balancing Overuse of Cognitive Functioning 137

Case Example 139
Introduction 139
Assessment of Functional Level 139
Beginning With the Cognitive Component 140
Introduction to the Affective Component 140
Further Movement to the Affective Component 140
Functioning With the Affective Component 141
Summary 141

8 Symbolic Component of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 145

Introduction to the Symbolic Component 145
Developmental Hierarchy 146
Healing Function of the Symbolic Component 147
Examples of Symbolic Experiences 148
Media Experiences to Enhance Symbolic Functioning 153
Reflective Distance With the Symbolic Component 155
Questions and Discussion That Promote Symbolic Information Processing 156
Emergent Function of the Symbolic Component 157
Overcoming Blocks to Symbolic Functioning 158
Balancing Overuse of Symbolic Functioning 160
Case Example 162
Introduction 162
Assessment of Functional Level 162
Formulation of Therapeutic Goals 164
Beginning With the Cognitive Component 164
Movement to the Symbolic Component 164
Including the Affective Component 165
Summary 165

9 Creative Level of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 169

Introduction to the Creative Level 169
Developmental Hierarchy 170
Healing Function of the Creative Level 171
Media and Experiences to Enhance Creative Functioning 173
Reflective Distance With the Creative Level 176
Questions and Discussion That Promote Creative Information Processing 176
Emergent Function of the Creative Level 177
Overcoming Blocks to Creative Functioning 177
Understanding and Supporting Creative Functioning 180
Case Example 182
Introduction 182
Kinesthetic/Sensory Level 183
Perceptual/Affective Level 183
Cognitive/Symbolic Level 183
Creative Level 184
Summary 185

Section 3 Assessment and Clinical Applications

10 Assessment Within the Structure of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 191

- Introduction to Art-Based Assessment 191
- Assessment With the Expressive Therapies Continuum 193
- Assessment of Client Functional Level on the Expressive Therapies Continuum 194
- Information Gathered From Assessment Tasks 195
- Preferred Medium 196
- Media Properties and Strength of Preference 197
- Risk Taking 198
- Manner of Interaction With Media to Process Information and Form Images 198
- Responses to Boundaries and Limits 199
- Commitment and Frustration Tolerance 199
- Level of Energy 200
- Coping Skills 200
- Stylistic or Expressive Elements of the Final Art Product 201
- Developmental Level 201
- Line and Form Quality 202
- Use of Space 202
- Color Use 203
- Organic Indicators 203
- Content and Symbolism 204
- Organizing Functions 204
- Verbal Communication 210
- Quality of Verbal Comments 211
- Rate and Volume of Speech 212
- Logic Displayed 213
- Case Example 213
- Summary 214

11 Individual Interventions 217

- Introduction to Therapeutic Intervention With the Expressive Therapies Continuum 217
- Formulating Treatment Goals Within the Framework of the Expressive Therapies Continuum 219
- Determining a Starting Place for Therapy 219
- Establishing a Client-Therapist Partnership 220
- Conceptualizing Treatment Guided by the Expressive Therapies Continuum 221
- Initiating Art-Based Treatment 221
- Making Planned Therapeutic Changes 223
- Media Properties 223
- Task Complexity 224
- Questions and Discussion 225
- Negotiating Unplanned Changes 227
- Avoiding Nontherapeutic Movement 229
- Facilitating Termination 230
- Managing Resistance to the Use of Art in Therapy 232

Working Through Therapeutic Obstacles 235
Transference and Countertransference Issues Unique to the Expressive Therapies Continuum 237
Summary 239

12 Couples, Families, and Groups 241

Introduction 241
Conducting Group Therapy in the Expressive Therapies
Continuum Framework 242
Kinesthetic/Sensory Level 243
Perceptual/Affective Level 245
Cognitive/Symbolic Level 247
Individualizing Group Art Therapy Using the Expressive
Therapies Continuum 248
Termination of Group Art Therapy 250
The Expressive Therapies Continuum in Couples and Family Therapy 251
Kinesthetic/Sensory Level 252
Perceptual/Affective Level 253
Cognitive/Symbolic Level 257
Creative Level 258
Termination of Couples and Family Therapy 259
Summary 260
